Straight Life Insurance
Building Exclusively

Notable among the progress of St. Louis institutions is the advancement being made by the Douglas Life Insurance Company. A beautiful lot on the Northwest corner of Lexington and Pine boulevards has been recently purchased for the Home Office of the Company. The building which now stands on the property will be completely remodeled to house the offices of the Company.

It is considered a very desirable location, being right in the heart of a new district, one block from the St. Y. W. C. A. and on the boulevard.

Simultaneously with the securing of additional capital, the Company disposed of its stock and accident business. The straight life insurance policy is being sold in large quantities.

The company is now working upon additional policy contracts. The general public has been very interested in the new building and a new volume of business has been placed during the first few days.

The company is now coming into its own. It is hoped that the citizens will rally around business life and help put it over. The Board of Directors and the Management look forward to a goodly amount of business during the next thirty days.

WHITMAN SISTERS' SECOND
REVUE AT BOOKER WASH'TON
CONTINUES TO DRAW CROWDS

The Whitman Sisters and "Their Gang" are drawing big crowds again at the Booker Washington Theatre this week with their second popular revue. Their offering is on a par with the last week. The specialty numbers are all different and the dancing is as spirited. The jazz band is again a conspicuous factor in the good entertainment. Most of the principals have work similar to the previous week and are all generously applauded. The opening is a medley of popular choruses introducing individual dancing talent. Ernest Marshall again scores with his clarinet blues. Ernestine and James Rodgers sing "Ellie" and do some fancy dancing followed by their version of the Charleston, which is a scream. Sam Jenkins, Marshall and W. B. Johnson have a street sketch that is full of fun. The girls do an audience promenade which ends on the stage, singing "Nobody's Sweetheart Now." Little Albert and Billie Adams are paired with a dancing and comedy sketch. Alice Whitman with the girls and Princess Wee Wee go over big with another dance chorus. Miss Alice does a jump turn with the girls followed with artistic dancing and Bert's dancing. Eddie Whitman's domestic character sketch with a telephone song gets an encore. The show ends with a whirlwind of dancing. The entire production is going over as only the Whitmans can pilot a show. The patrons are well pleased. The engagement will close Sunday night.

Ma Rainey and Vaudeville
NEXT WEEK

Ma Rainey, "Mother of the Blues" and her own Jazz Band, will feature an extraordinary vaudeville bill at the Booker Washington next week. Johnny Woods, the witty ventriloquist and his funny mannikin, "Little Henry," will be a part of the show. Earnest Whitman and Josephine Leggett have a sketch that is making a big hit; and Floyd and Beulah, who are screaming comedy act, Monday will be "The Big Top" for the patrons. Every person who enters the theatre will receive an envelope containing coupon, stamps or money.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

THE COMET

The feature at the Comet Theatre this Saturday, "The Dressmaker from Paris," is an adaptation from Ethel Barrymore's stage success of the same title. It draws a vivid contrast between social leadership and social ostracism in London's aristocracy and affords Corinne Griffith a highly emotional role of wide range. Lloyd Hughes is her leading man. Rint-Tintin, the "Wonder Dog," has a real acting part in "Tracked in the Snow Country," the Sunday special. Most interest in him this picture comes from the fact that he starts out as a "heavy," being falsely accused of a crime. Rint-Tintin's efforts to bring the real culprit to justice and thereby establish his own innocence, provide the big dramatic thread of the story.

Leatrice Joy in "The Dressmaker from Paris" on Monday. Shirley Mason in "The Star Dust Trail" and a western drama, "The Cowboy Prince" on Tuesday. Ramond Griffith in "The Night Club" on Wednesday, are all wide features.

Ronald Colman and Blanche Sweet in "His Supreme Moment" will be the attraction on Thursday and Friday. It deals with the love of two women for one man. Miss Sweet plays the role of a Broadway actress and dancer. Two of her dance numbers, original fantasy and a wild Spanish fandango, are presented on the screen in natural color by the improved Technicolor Process.

THE RETINA
The Retina Skydome will have another picture and dance and comedy revue by The Manhattan Company this Saturday. It is going big as a stage attraction in addition to the regular picture program.

Three Scruggs and her company will be featured in a hit last Sunday. It was necessary to turn away patrons, Miss Scruggs, St. Louis' champion blues singer and she is making good wherever she appears. She and her company have been engaged for this Sunday night, and a new show will be presented. A repertoire of good comedy, dancing and the latest song hits are included in this program with feature pictures and novelties.

Ma and Wynne will be the photo play feature next Thursday. It is a picture of big dramatic punches featuring Ethel Barrymore, Norma Shearer, Earnest Hilliard and Edna May Spoooner.

THE STAR
"The Monster," a creepy, mystery tale, featuring Lon Chaney, will be the Star Theatre special this Saturday. While there is some relieving humor that saves one's nerves, the film follows one series of hair-raising adventures into the nether regions. Bodily figures grip the innocent and convey them to a hideous cellar, where a horrible electric chair is secreted, and an operating table.

Fred Thompson, with his horse "Silver King," will be seen in "The Bandit's Baby." The picture revolves largely in its unusual story around the situation of an outlaw who, is granted and finds too late to ride in a rodeo for the honor of his old home town. A baby show, which is scheduled for the day of the rodeo, needs a judge badly; this furnishes the screamingly funny phase to the picture.

"The Meddler" will be shown on Monday. Leo Maloney in "The Rum Runners" and Corinne Griffith in "The Common Law" will be Tuesday features. Patsy Ruth Miller will be seen in "The Girl on The Stairs."

A DISGRACE TO THE NEGRO MINISTRY

The Rev. Andrew Johnson is a disgrace to the Negro ministry, are the words used by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in condemning a Negro preacher of the Ku Klux Klan, Atlantic City, N. J., who addressed the members of the Klan in full regalia, to occupy his pulpit and deliver an address to the congregation.

The report of the occasion says, among other things, that the pastor presented the speaker, representing the Klan, as a friend to the colored people, and that the speaker reiterated the statement and added that the Klan was "opposed to turning over this country to the people of Rome."

We, of course, do not blame the Klan members for feeding a glib Negro minister with their insidious propaganda. In fact, we can imagine them laughing up their sleeves as they left the church, and communing among themselves saying "these fools they were"; but, for the life of us, we cannot understand how a Negro minister, who gets up in public and espouses the cause of the Ku Klux Klan with his bloody record, has we do not hesitate to say, surely sold his soul for a pot of gold. We make this statement advisedly because "Klanology" believes that a little filthy lucre exposed to the sight, or near-sight, of the average Negro preacher, will make him sell his soul. It is presumed, however, that even the Klan has learned better. We are willing to take up the challenge and say there are thousands who have never bowed their knees to Baal. There are to be sure, God-fearing, upstanding, stalwart men whom the love of money cannot buy, but the weak, ignorant, palm-itching preacher may be expected to do anything, the only bad feature about his act is the fact that he was known to be a Christian leader in his own day. It is known far and near, let it be proclaimed on the house-tops, in the schools and in the churches, especially to the Negro youth, that the Ku Klux Klan is their enemy, that it would rob them of their citizenship and reduce them to a worse condition than chattel slavery, and that any preacher, teacher or leader who advocates the contrary, is either dishonest or too ignorant to be listened to.

Therefore, we conclude that the Rev. Andrew Johnson was referred to by the N. A. A. C. P., as "a disgrace to the ministry" is not only a disgrace to the ministry, but a disgrace to the Negro race. In fact, we believe him to be an agent of the devil, a wolf dressed in sheep clothing.

SURELY THE PEOPLE HAVE SOME RIGHTS

Despite the fact that Governor Baker has been quoted as saying "petitions will not go good," we think that the right to petition the governor of this state is as inviolable as any such statement, even though coming from the governor himself.

Any matter which is in the hands of the governor and is of sufficient public concern, those interested, surely, are within their rights to petition and ask the governor to extend mercy as long as it is within his power to give. We would suggest, therefore, to all who are interested in the case, that they send in their petition under death sentence, petition the governor stating the facts as best they know, and leave the matter entirely up to his honor to decide.

The writer made a visit, not long since, to the State Penitentiary at Jefferson City and noted that nearly forty per cent of the inmates of that institution are colored. Knowing that the colored population of the state is only about sixteen per cent, one can readily see that there must be a gross miscarriage of justice in a large number of cases. No one knows this better, perhaps, than Governor Baker. He knows something about the injustices that the colored people must of necessity suffer because of race prejudice, which plays no small part in the case, before the courts in most instances. Knowledge of this condition ought to lead to the hearts of men who hold high and honored positions. We believe that a striking case of injustice, based upon race prejudice, is found in the Crump case. At the time he was convicted, the mob spirit was running high. A rope with which to hang the victim, if he did not get the death sentence, was coiled in the hall of the courthouse. The judge is said to have been told of this fact. The jury was aware of this condition. Justice was miscarried. The governor can, at least, hear the petitions of those who seek to save a life under these circumstances.

When one hears the different stories and the utter disregard for truth on the part of some of the public officers down about the City Hall, we think it would be a splendid idea to form an "Ananias Club." It may be that such a club might have a tendency to cause some of the public officials to guard their words just a little closer.

We are informed that one Henry T. Burke is slated to succeed Jas. H. Arnold as Clerk in Police Court.—Lord here.

Hon. Chas. A. Lee, State Supr. of Education, thought a young man, looks like he has the making of a great and useful man to his state. We are proud of the reputation that Mr. Lee is making as an educator. The mere fact that he is a Democrat goes to no, it all depends on the man.

MUSIC, ART, DRAMA AND LITERATURE

By RICHARD JACKSON

One of the most interesting books that has been published recently, so far as the Negro is concerned, is a volume by Professor Howard W. Odum, Kansas of the sociology department, "The Social and Cultural Life of the University of North Carolina, and Guy B. Johnson of the University of Chicago, in the title of the same school under the title, "The Negro and His Song."

The Negro and His Song presents a comprehensive study more or less, of the Negro's music in relation to his habits, customs and habits and thereby gives one an insight into the birth of his melodies. Strange enough, however, the book is associated with any of the higher classical music such as is found in the later compositions of Haydn, Beethoven and Netherland, but chiefly with jazz music—in principal blues—which is a classification of the so-called "song" of the Negro.

Although the book is devoted to a marked extent in the works, they are not treated in the light of the Negro's music, but in the light of folk music. The thing of principal concern to the authors in the spirit of the music is the expression of the meanings of its verse. Through these mediums an attempt is made to bring the Negro's music to the attention of the world. This instead of treating the compositions for their underlying character and creative value, as is chiefly regarded for the peculiarities and oddities, and made a study of the music as it is the work of its originators. The authors go so far with these tendencies that they conclude, according to the suggestions given by the words of the songs.

A Work of Oriental Art. A truly unique piece of oriental work in the history of the "Oriental" rug. It embraces a pictorial record of Persia's rulers from times extending to the Christian era to the time of the World War. Work upon the rug was started in 1906 and went on until it was completed in 1925. It has glorified the crowning of the Sultan Ahmed Mirza, on the occasion of the coronation of the Shah of Persia, but was diverted mysteriously to New York. Moving into the hands of a collector, it was valued at 6,000 miles to that modern capital. The rug is a multicolored masterpiece of weaving, and was specially woven during the period of 17 years, being the handiwork of a single weaver, who lived in Persia. With remarkable fidelity to features and colors, the rug is a portrait of each individual depicted. There are 1,000 knots to each square inch, and the rug is a masterpiece of weaving.

The Monarch Bank, one of the paramount Negro musical organizations of the country, has again been selected by the Municipal Board of St. Louis to give a concert in the parks during the summer months. In 1924, the Monarch Bank made its debut in the public park concert. It was then a small, private band, but ever since that time it has grown in size and in the number of its members. It is now a large, well-organized band, and its music is a source of great pleasure to the community.

This year Mr. Simpson and his men will invade Central Park and will be famous by the recent Governor of New York. The band is a well-organized band, and its music is a source of great pleasure to the community.

There is no specific grant of power to Congress by the Constitution to organize and charter a bank. But the Constitution does give Congress the power to regulate the money of the United States. It is not implied that Congress may take any other action to protect credit, even though it is establishing banks.

Chief Justice John Marshall, in McCulloch vs. Maryland, said: "The National Government is Supreme." The Supreme Court of the United States has the final and last say as to what acts of Congress are constitutional. There is no specific grant of power to Congress by the Constitution to organize and charter a bank. But the Constitution does give Congress the power to regulate the money of the United States. It is not implied that Congress may take any other action to protect credit, even though it is establishing banks.

Now, it is legitimate to protect the people against mob violence? Would it be legitimate to pass a law to reach the violators? Does not the Constitution guarantee to every citizen the equal protection of the law? If these questions may be correctly answered in the affirmative then say action Congress may take along this line. The Constitution does not specifically provide that he who steals livestock from a small farm may be put in certain way. It only provides for the establishing of mail routes and the carrying of the mails. It is that under the Constitution, Congress may pass laws for the punishment of persons who steal from the mails.

In my opinion, any law passed by the Senate and the House of Representatives and that the people be protected from mob violence, equally in all the States of the colored American states, the United States, would be constitutional. —S. E. Garner, Atty. Gen.

Washington's Jim Crow Bathing

Ever since slavery was abolished in the District of Columbia, the segregation of the colored people in the city is imperiled by devoting that comparatively little, if not stagnant water, to the use of the colored people, the white population, not to speak of the colored population that are now going to the District of Columbia.

After Senator Walsh finished shopping up Sherill and the other Negro bathing segregationists who for years have been trying to segregate the colored people in Washington by one method and another, the proposition was voted down by the Senate. The Jim Crow bath was killed. Today it has been killed again by President Coolidge emphatically stating to Sherill and the other persons in league with him that he is no way to establish this Jim Crow bath hating bathing beach without the sanction of Congress. If Theodore Roosevelt were President of the United States, would he have been so much of a man as Sherill would have been? If he were, he would have been proven that he was attempting not only to coerce Congress but also to coerce the colored people of the United States by intimating that the colored people themselves desired to have a bathing beach in the city of no where else. The Republican Senators who are anxious to win in the approaching Senate election, are being emphatically stating to get rid of the Jim Crow bath, and the Democrats who are making trades for the Negro vote in the private race, are also, well, also, to have Sherill eliminated before the next voting time comes around.

As everybody knows, Senator Walsh of Montana, was the Chairman of the Democratic presidential campaign, held in New York last year, and when this same Jim Crow bathing beach proposition was brought before the Senate for approval, he and other influential Democrats made telling speeches against it. Senator Walsh denounced it in toto, and finally with a number of other Democratic and Republican Senators eliminated it from the Senate floor.

When an appropriation for this purpose was under consideration, two or three years ago it was maintained on the floor of the Senate by those who were in the majority, that it was the purpose to establish a bathing beach on the west side of the Tidal Basin, and it was proposed for that reason. The most recent kind of assurances were given by the Democratic majority, with the kind of the kind was contemplated at all, and relying upon these assurances that the purpose of the appropriation is, I dare say, other than what was intended to learn that the Tidal Basin is to be a bathing beach for the colored people of the District of Columbia, and nothing but for the white people of the District.

The executive committee, in its report of the committee, made it plain that the recent changes were a warning to other members of the faculty that unless they were to have academic freedom and more of the administration program, they would be asked to leave the university.

The Alumni Association of Howard University, which has been greatly interested in the action of the committee's action, is seeking to cause a congressional investigation of the circumstances involving the change made.
